How to Use the Communication Records

- 1) Weekly Results Sheet---You can use this sheet on a weekly, bi-weekly or monthly basis. The top half of the sheet addresses what you plan to do in the coming week, two week period or month. The idea is to set goals for yourself even if you don't reach them all. By writing it down you may be more committed to carrying it out. The bottom half of the sheet allows you to look at what you did compared to what you said you were going to do in the previous reporting period.
- 2) Weekly Integrity and Well-Being Checklist---This sheet will help you keep track of integrity issues and your duties as a Christian. You can circle the Y for Yes and the N for No for the first 16 items. You can place checks in the boxes in the bottom half of the page if you accomplish those items on those days.
- 3) Communication Record (Family-Friends-Newbies)---These sheets allow you to keep track of your communication with people in your life. List the names of family members (mom, dad, uncle, aunt, cousin etc.), friends and newbies (new acquaintances) on each of the sheets. Try to keep in touch with everyone at least once every six months. The E stands for email, L is for letter, C is for phone call and the V is for a face to face visit. You don't have to talk about your beliefs every time you communicate with these people. But by staying in communication with them it will be easier to communicate with them about anything.

*It will also help if you have a partner. By discussing your communication records with your partner each week or month you will stay more committed to carrying out your communication goals. Pick someone at church or find someone at the Feast who you can correspond with.
